

Dear Benjamin,

It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas, especially here at the North Pole! The snow is really coming down and we're all in the Christmas mood. Mrs. Claus and I are sipping cocoa by the fire while the elves tell each other holiday stories. Even the reindeer are holding their annual cookie baking contest.

I wanted to take this time to write to you because how awesome you have been this year. All your family and friends agree that you are a wonderful person. I hope you keep up the good behavior all year long. I'm so proud of you!

It looks like Mrs. Claus just turned on "How the Grinch Stole Christmas," my favorite Holiday movie! Everything here is ready for the big day; are you? Don't forget the milk and cookies!

See you soon!

Remember, Santa thinks you're amazing!

P.S. I heard you scored two goals
in soccer this year!
Great Job!!
